15 pages have slow load speed

15

About this issue:

0

Page (HTML) load speed is one of the most important ranking factors. The quicker your page loads, the higher the rankings it can receive. Moreover, fast-loading pages positively affect user experience and may increase your conversion rates.

Please note that "page load speed" usually refers to the amount of time it takes for a webpage to be fully rendered by a browser. However, crawler only measures the time it takes to load a webpage's HTML code - load times for images, JavaScript and CSS are not factored in.

How to fix:

The main factors that negatively affect your HTML page generation time are your server's performance and the density of your webpage's HTML code.

So, try to clean up your webpage's HTML code. If the problem is with your web server, you should think about moving to a better hosting service with more resources.

2 pages have duplicate meta descriptions

2

About this issue:

0

Our crawler reports pages that have duplicate meta descriptions only if they are exact matches.

A <meta description> tag is a short summary of a webpage's content that helps search engines understand what the page is about and can be shown to users in search results.

Duplicate meta descriptions on different pages mean a lost opportunity to use more relevant keywords. Also, duplicate meta descriptions make it difficult for search engines and users to differentiate between different webpages. It is better to have no meta description at all than to have a duplicate one.

How to fix:

Provide a unique, relevant meta description for each of your webpages.

For information on how to create effective meta descriptions, please see this Google article.

Warnings	Amount
90 pages have low text-HTML ratio About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content. That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster. How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.	90 0
3 links on HTTPS pages lead to HTTP page About this issue: If any link on website points to the old HTTP version of website, search engines can become confused as to which version of the page they should rank. How to fix: Replace all HTTP links with the new HTTPS versions.	3 0
2 pages have too much text within the title tags About this issue: Most search engines truncate titles containing more than 70 characters. Incomplete and shortened titles look unappealing to users and won't entice them to click on your page. For more information, please see this Google article How to fix: Try to rewrite your page titles to be 70 characters or less.	2 0

Warnings	Amount
2 outgoing internal links contain nofollow attribute About this issue: The rel="nofollow" attribute is an element in an  tag that tells crawlers not to follow the link (e.g., " Nofollow link example "). "Nofollow" links don't pass any link juice to referred webpages. That's why it is not recommended that you use nofollow attributes in internal links. You should let link juice flow freely throughout your website. Moreover, unintentional use of nofollow attributes may result in your webpage being ignored by search engine crawlers even if it contains a valuable content. How to fix: Make sure not to use nofollow attributes by mistake. Remove them from  tags, if necessary.	2 0
1 page doesn't have an h1 heading About this issue: While less important than <title> tags, h1 headings still help define your page's topic for search engines and users. If an <h1> tag is empty or missing, search engines may place your page lower than they would otherwise. Besides, a lack of an <h1> tag breaks your page's heading hierarchy, which is not SEO friendly. 109 links on this page have no anchor text	109
About this issue: The issue is triggered if a link (external or internal) on your site has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., just a URL), or anchor text only contains special characters. This issue makes it difficult for the crawlers to understand what the page is about and affects the performance of the linked-to page in search results. How to fix: Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about. Also, use short but descriptive text. Learn more	0
89 pages require content optimization	89
About this issue: Content optimization enhances on-page clarity, improves user engagement, snippet eligibility, and topical authority. It's especially important for pages with a lot of content. How to fix: - Follow the advice provided in the error details for each page. - Improve your content with AI using the Content Optimizer tool.	0
24 links have non-descriptive anchor text	24
About this issue: The issue is triggered if the anchor text for a link (internal or external) is non-descriptive. An anchor is considered to be non-descriptive if it doesn't say what the page is about (click here, right here, etc.). This issue makes it difficult for the target page to be indexed by search engines and rank for relevant search requests. Learn more How to fix: To let users and search engines understand the meaning of the linked-to page, use succinct anchor text that describes the page's content. Learn more	0

Long title element

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

Most search engines truncate titles containing more than 70 characters. Incomplete and shortened titles look unappealing to users and won't entice them to click on your page.

For more information, please see this Google article

How to fix:

Try to rewrite your page titles to be 70 characters or less.

Nofollow attributes in outgoing internal links

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

The rel="nofollow" attribute is an element in an  tag that tells crawlers not to follow the link (e.g., "Nofollow link example"). "Nofollow" links don't pass any link juice to referred webpages. That's why it is not recommended that you use nofollow attributes in internal links. You should let link juice flow freely throughout your website. Moreover, unintentional use of nofollow attributes may result in your webpage being ignored by search engine crawlers even if it contains a valuable content.

How to fix:

Make sure not to use nofollow attributes by mistake. Remove them from  tags, if necessary.

Detailed Notices

Links with no anchor text

Project name: carsa.co.uk

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

The issue is triggered if a link (external or internal) on your site has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., just a URL), or anchor text only contains special characters. This issue makes it difficult for the crawlers to understand what the page is about and affects the performance of the linked-to page in search results.

How to fix:

Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about. Also, use short but descriptive text. Learn more

Links with non-descriptive anchor text

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

The issue is triggered if the anchor text for a link (internal or external) is non-descriptive. An anchor is considered to be non-descriptive if it doesn't say what the page is about (click here, right here, etc.). This issue makes it difficult for the target page to be indexed by search engines and rank for relevant search requests. Learn more

How to fix:

To let users and search engines understand the meaning of the linked-to page, use succinct anchor text that describes the page's content. Learn more

Pages with only one internal link

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

Having few incoming internal links means little to no visits or chances of being placed in search results.

How to fix:

Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.

Multiple h1 tags

Detailed Issue Description

About this issue:

Although multiple <h1> tags are allowed in HTML5, we still do not recommend that you use more than one <h1> tag per page. Including multiple <h1> tags may confuse users.

How to fix:

Use multiple <h2>-<h6> tags instead of an <h1>.
